La Cosa

Documentary

1990 – 59 min – Political Documentary – Italian

The events that led to the fall of the Berlin Wall and the end of the Cold War prompted changes in the Italian Communist Party (PCI), which in 1989 announced a historical svolta (sharp turn). A companion piece to Nanni's 1989 Palombella Rossa, this documentary tackles the future of the PCI and the future, if any, of a socialistic utopia. Nanni Moretti comments: La Cosa isn't a cinema citation; it's the term people used for what was coming into being - this "cosa" which would replace the old Communist Party. From the confronting debates depicted to the re-evocation of the history of the Italian Left and of its founding principles, Moretti expresses here a nostalgic longing for a style of politics that has disappeared in Italy.

Just A Beginning

(Ce N'est Qu'un Debut)

HD

a film by Jean-Pierre Pozzi and Pierre Barouquier

2010 – 97 min – French
Festivals: Rome, The Hamptons, Montréal Nouveau Cinema, Stuttgart-Tübingen

Just A Beginning follows a nursery school class for a period of two years. But this is a very unusual class as the children, aged three to five study... philosophy!

Seated in a circle around a ritually lit candle, the children, in a fresh, funny and sometimes merciless manner, approach the universal subjects of love, power, difference, growing up, death etc. Little by little the philosophy workshop becomes a privileged moment where each child reflects on the words of the other, learns how to listen and to build a discourse. From now on they will be able to think for themselves!

With their emotions, their unusual expressions and their contradictions, the children of this nursery school deliver a single testimony on an innovative experiment. Just A Beginning is the fabulous true story of a school with an eye on the future.

Young @ Heart

(I Feel Good!)

HD

a film by Stephen Walker

Cast: The YOUNG @ HEART choir
2007 – 108 min – English
Festivals: Sundance, Los Angeles, Paris, Munich, Moscow, Bergen, Warsaw, Stockholm, Taipei Golden Horse FF, Dubai, Indie Lisboa, Mumbai

Billed as "pensioners behaving badly", Young@Heart is a chorus like no other. With an average age of 80, their renditions of rock'n'roll songs from the likes of Coldplay, Hendrix and The Clash have won terrific reviews all over the world.

This touching documentary follows chorus members as they prepare a new show. In the mouths of these seniors, the lyrics of rock songs acquire a new poignancy, trampling on taboos surrounding old age, love, sex and death. The result is a moving and often hilarious portrait of an extraordinary group of people who may be old in body but refuse to grow old in spirit.

In 1964, he was expelled from the country before finishing his sentence and was forced to leave with his wife and family behind.

The first film by Véra Belmont is based on Pasqualini's book about his harrowing true experiences.

Soon, rumours spread that Abram was in prison because of his homosexuality and he is accused of raping the village idiot. Abram escapes to the forest and a man hunt begins.
