From September 1973, after the military coup led by General Pinochet, the Italian embassy in Santiago has hosted hundreds and hundreds of asylum seekers.

I am Self-Sufficient

(Io Sono Un Autarchico)

Cast: Nanni Moretti, Simona Frosi, Andrea Pozzi, Fabio Traversa
1976 – 95 min – Comedy – Italian
Festivals: Berlin Forum

One of Moretti's first critically-recognized works, this is a daring, auto-biographical, very amusing look at a young performer, Michele, struggling to survive in Rome's underground theater movement by producing a play with his friends - only to have it flop and destroy his marriage.

Ecce Bombo

Cast: Nanni Moretti, Luisa Rossi, Glauco Mauri, Lorenza Ralli, Fabio Traversa
1978 – 103 min – Comedy – Italian

Michele (Nanni Moretti) goes from one girlfriend to the next and has a difficult relationship with his family, but following a series of political and amorous misadventures, he and his friends decide to take life more seriously. ## Sogni D'Oro

Cast: Nanni Moretti, Laura Morante
1981 – 81 min – Comedy – Italian
Festivals: Venice (Special Jury Prize)

One of Moretti's wildest pictures relentlessly parodies the Italian film business as well as everything from TV game shows to Sigmund Freud. With more than a nod to Fellini's 8-1/2, Moretti stars as a self-obsessed director who constantly daydreams scenes from his imaginary opus.

La Cosa Documentary

1990 – 59 min – Political Documentary – Italian

The events that led to the fall of the Berlin Wall and the end of the Cold War prompted changes in the Italian Communist Party (PCI), which in 1989 announced a historical svolta (sharp turn). A companion piece to Nanni's 1989 Palombella Rossa, this documentary tackles the future of the PCI and the future, if any, of a socialistic utopia. Nanni Moretti comments: La Cosa isn't a cinema citation; it's the term people used for what was coming into being - this "cosa" which would replace the old Communist Party. From the confronting debates depicted to the re-evocation of the history of the Italian Left and of its founding principles, Moretti expresses here a nostalgic longing for a style of politics that has disappeared in Italy.

Florence Strauss

2019 – 8x52 min – Documentary - French

Starring Pierre Braunberger, Anatole Dauman, Robert Dorfmann, Hakim brothers, Mag Bodard, Alain Poiré, Pierre Cottrell, Albina du Boisrouvray, Jacques Perrin, Jean-Pierre Rassam and many others.

They have always worked in the shadow and remain unknown to the broader public. Yet, they have produced movies that we all know, from La Grande Vadrouille to La Grande Bouffe, from Fanfan La Tulipe to The Mother and the Whore, from Casque d'Or to Beauty and the Beast.

Self-made men, passionate, gamblers, they have financed cinema with an exceptional ingeniousness at a time where neither televisions nor SOFICAS existed.

Starting from the bottom, they could either win everything... or lose everything. They are colorful characters with a fiction-like life path. Between the desires of the directors and the reality of the shootings, they ensured that the film was carried out and sometimes make choices that confront art versus industry, creation versus money. They were the kings of illusion, they had to land credibility to their status of Nababs to compensate their lack of banking solvency!

The Last Tycoons enlightens these men and women between the two world wars and the end of the 70's, who have produced the films that keep on striking spectators of the entire world.

(Le Dernier des Injustes)

a film by Claude Lanzmann

2013 – 218 min – English, German, Hebrew, French

Festivals: Cannes (Out of Competition), Toronto, Busan, New York, London, BAFICI, Istanbul

1975. In Rome, Claude Lanzmann filmed a series of interviews with Benjamin Murelstein, the last President of the Jewish Council of Elders in the Theresienstadt ghetto in Czechoslovakia, the only "Jewish elder" (according to Nazi terminology) not to have been killed during the war. A rabbi in Vienna, following the annexation of Austria by Germany in 1938 Murelstein fought bitterly with Adolf Eichmann, week after week for seven years, managing to help around 121,000 Jews leave the country, and preventing the liquidation of the ghetto.

2012. Claude Lanzmann, at 87, exhumes these interviews from Rome, returning to Theresienstadt, the town "given to the Jews by Hitler", a so-called model ghetto, but a deceitful ghetto chosen by Eichmann to dupe the world. We discover the extraordinary personality of Benjamin Murelstein: a man blessed with a dazzling intelligence and a certain courage which, along with an unrivaled memory, makes him a wonderfully wry, sardonic and authentic storyteller.

Through the various periods, from Nisko in Poland to Theresienstadt, and from Vienna to Rome, the film provides an unprecedented insight into the genesis of the Final Solution. It also reveals the true face of Eichmann, and exposes without artifice the savage contradictions of the Jewish Councils.

Far Out isn't Far Enough: The Tomi Ungerer Story

a film by Brad Bernstein

HD

with Tomi Ungerer, Maurice Sendak, Jules Feiffer,
Michael Patrick Hearn, Aria Ungerer
2012 – 97 min (52min version available) – English
Festivals: Toronto, Annecy, Warsaw (Best Documentary Award), Rome

Far Out Isn't Far Enough: The Tomi Ungerer Story depicts one man's wild, lifelong adventure of testing societal boundaries through his use of subversive art. This 90-minute film combines traditional documentary storytelling with original animation from over 70 years worth of art from the renegade children's book author and illustrator. Using a historical palette of 20th century events to paint an artist's epic yet controversial life story, it offers a retrospective of Ungerer's life and art.

But it goes farther, pondering the complexities and contradictions of a man who, armed with an acerbic wit, an accusing finger and a razor sharp pencil, gave visual representation to the revolutionary voices during one of the most tantalizing and dramatic periods in American history. Far Out Isn't Far Enough explores the circumstances of his meteoric rise and fall on American soil, but also delves into Ungerer's formative years leading up to (and prolific years since...) his time in America!

Young @ Heart

(I Feel Good!)

a film by Stephen Walker

HD

Cast: The YOUNG @ HEART choir
2007 – 108 min – English
Festivals: Sundance, Los Angeles, Paris, Munich, Moscow, Bergen, Warsaw, Stockholm, Taipei Golden Horse FF, Dubai, Indie Lisboa, Mumbai

Billed as "pensioners behaving badly", Young@Heart is a chorus like no other. With an average age of 80, their renditions of rock'n'roll songs from the likes of Coldplay, Hendrix and The Clash have won terrific reviews all over the world.

This touching documentary follows chorus members as they prepare a new show. In the mouths of these seniors, the lyrics of rock songs acquire a new poignancy, trampling on taboos surrounding old age, love, sex and death. The result is a moving and often hilarious portrait of an extraordinary group of people who may be old in body but refuse to grow old in spirit.

a film by Jean-Pierre Pozzi and Pierre Barougier

2010 – 97 min – French

Festivals: Rome, The Hamptons, Montréal Nouveau Cinema, Stuttgart-Tübingen

Just A Beginning follows a nursery school class for a period of two years. But this is a very unusual class as the children, aged three to five study... philosophy!

Seated in a circle around a ritually lit candle, the children, in a fresh, funny and sometimes merciless manner, approach the universal subjects of love, power, difference, growing up, death etc. Little by little the philosophy workshop becomes a privileged moment where each child reflects on the words of the other, learns how to listen and to build a discourse. From now on they will be able to think for themselves!

With their emotions, their unusual expressions and their contradictions, the children of this nursery school deliver a single testimony on an innovative experiment. Just A Beginning is the fabulous true story of a school with an eye on the future.
